DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1-4 are presented for examination on the merits.

Information Disclosure Statement

The information disclosure statement (IDS) submitted on September 23, 2004, was received. The submission is in compliance with the provisions of 37 CFR 1.97. Accordingly, the information disclosure statement is being considered by the examiner.

Preliminary Amendment

The Preliminary amendment filed November 19, 2004, has been received and entered.

Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 lacks antecedent basis for "the anaerobic microorganisms" as recited at line 1. Furthermore, the claim is unclear with respect to how the process steps are to be carried out. Therefore, the claims 1-4 are further rendered vague and indefinite for failing to recite clear and distinct process steps. Further, the claims are unclear for what is meant by controlling glucose by "feeding the substrate that rate is equal to alkaline consumption rate"? This terminology is unclear and very confusing as to what is taking place.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claims 1-4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over JP 58-98085, cited on the enclosed PTO-892 Form.

Claims are drawn to a method for continuous culture of anaerobic microorganisms while controlling glucose concentration of the culture by feeding the culture at a rate equal to consumption rate.

Art Unit: 1651

JP 58-98085 noted above, teaches a method for continuous culture of microorganisms wherein it is to feed the culture at a rate equal to consumption rate is discussed and recognized, see page 2, (1), all lines. Also note page 3, second full paragraph, all lines. Alkaline conditions and pH regulation is discussed also.

The claims differ from the cited disclosure in that anaerobic microorganisms are not clearly discussed.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to carry out the claimed method under alternate alkaline conditions by regulating pH and controlling substrate supply rate based on the amount of feed intake under aerobic and anaerobic conditions because the JP document suggests that such conditions may be employed under aerobic and anaerobic conditions. One of skill would have been motivated to modify the JP document to provide for a continuous culture methodology for anerobic microorganisms. Varying pH and addition of supplements for aiding control of parameters is clearly within the skill of an ordinary artisan. Continuous culture of microorganisms is well known in the art and the claimed subject matter is deemed prima facie obvious over the cited prior art.

All claims fail to be patentably distinguishable over the state of the art discussed above and cited on the enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449. Therefore, the claims are properly rejected.

The remaining references listed on the enclosed PTO-892 and/or PTO-1449 are cited to further show the state of the art.

No claims are allowed.
